

Call out for participants!

Artemis Productions are a Liverpool based street theatre company who specialise in walkabout performances. We have partnered with Culture Liverpool and the Pagoda Arts Centre to offer a training and performance opportunity as part of the Liverpool Lunar New Year celebrations 2025.

We are looking for participants who are interested in learning how to stilt walk using dura stilts and who would be willing to take part in a parade and walkabout performances to welcome in the year of the snake, these performances would be on January 25th and February 1st 2025. This is a training opportunity and therefore is unpaid, however, participants who want to continue developing their stilt walking performance skills will be considered for paid work with Artemis Productions throughout 2025 when opportunities arise.

No previous experience is required just an enthusiasm and commitment to learn a new skill. A general level of fitness and a willingness to perform in public is also desirable.

Participants will be required to attend 6 x 2 hour training workshops in order to develop their stilt walking and performance skills. These workshops will take place in a city centre location, dates and times TBC but are likely to include weekends and early evenings in order to accommodate any work commitments.

Please contact sarah@artemisproductions.co.uk if interested in taking part. It would be helpful to know about any arts experience you may already have or a little bit about why you would like to take part.

Expressions of interest must be sent by 9th January 2025
